

CONDITIONS IN OKLAHOMA TO BE FURTHER PURGED

Other Indictments to be Considered by Legislature

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 20. (A. P.)—Its primary purpose of removing J. C. Walton from the governor's seat having been accomplished, the state legislature shaped its plans today for a general house cleaning in the administration and to consider anti-Ku Klux Klan legislation before adjournment of the most dramatic session of a law-making body in the history of Oklahoma.

The lower house, functioning through sub-committees under its several committees on investigation and impeachment, continued its inquiries into affairs of various departments of state, with indications that one of its own members and at least one other state official will be named in proceedings before the work is completed.

Meanwhile, numerous measures directed against secret organizations in the state soon are to be acted upon in both houses. It was solely for this work that the deposed executive called the special legislative session which brought about his downfall.

Governor M. E. Trapp, former lieutenant governor, who succeeded Walton in the executive chair made known his desire today for a complete windup of all matters already undertaken by the legislature before he asks the body to recess until January, then to re-convene to consider a revised program for the state which he will propose.

Walton Strikes Back
Describing himself as a representative of the throbbing heart of humanity and the highest ideals of American citizenship, Walton today struck back at the verdict of the senate court of impeachment which convicted him of 11 charges of official misconduct and unanimously voted for his removal by declaring in a public statement that he would fight to the last to retain his office.

The former governor made a plea for financial support, promising that the legality of his trial which he characterized as not only illegal "but disgraceful as well," speedily would be determined by the highest court in the land. In this he referred to his application for a federal injunction to annul the proceedings of the senate court which will be heard for the second time tomorrow by United States District Judge John H. Cottrell here.

Other Developments
Among other developments today were:

Announcement of the house of managers that articles of impeachment will be presented soon in the house against Charles H. Ruth, supreme court commissioner, and one of the closest of Walton's present advisers.

Introduction in the lower house of a resolution to expel Representative Murray Gibbons, former speaker, on charges that he interfered with the October special election in the state and that he commercialized his official influence for a financial consideration.

Introduction in both houses of two more anti-Ku Klux Klan bills both providing drastic penalties.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY OF NEBRASKA JOINS NEW ORGANIZATION

Secretary of 48 Committee Was Chairman of Meeting

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 20.—(A. P.)—The Progressive party of the state of Nebraska, an official party recognized on the ballot in this state today went on record as joining the new political party formed in Chicago on Monday at which J. A. H. Hopkins, of New York, secretary of the committee of 48, acted as chairman.

Mr. Hopkins appeared before the progressive conference this afternoon and outlined the planks of his proposed platform. The conference agreed that it coincided with all of the fundamental ideas announced by Mr. Hopkins, but in signing up as a supporter of the convention call on next May 30 at St. Paul or Minneapolis, it was emphasized that the platform while embodying the fundamental principles to be supported will be subject to change and to the vote of the convention.

Burton L. Beebe of Omaha, as chairman and W. H. Green of Omaha, as secretary conducted the conference.

Both of these men were associated with Mr. Hopkins in the Roosevelt campaign of 1912.

Ford is Named.
It developed at the conference that the name of Henry Ford had been placed on the presidential primary ballot in this state as a progressive candidate by petition submitted some weeks ago but the matter went on record as having not endorsed Ford's candidacy in the state and as the Nebraska primary will be held previous to the convention May 30 the conference decided it would not endorse any man but would support the nominee of the May 30 convention.

The fundamental principles endorsed by the Nebraska progressives were the same as laid down by the Chicago meeting yesterday namely Governmental Ownership of Railroads, government control of natural resources and government ownership and operation of banks.

RADIO TESTS ACROSS ATLANTIC TO BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT

American Stations Will Broadcast on Monday Night

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Trans-Atlantic radio telephonists will be made between the United States and English stations beginning next Sunday and continuing until December 16 when the large broadcasting stations on both sides of the Atlantic will broadcast musical and amusement programs.

The English stations will begin their first test at 10 o'clock eastern standard time Sunday night. American stations will broadcast the following night and Henry Ford has been announced as the first speaker. Continuing through the week the English and American stations will broadcast alternate nights until December 1, when an attempt will be made to establish two-way communication.

It is planned to have men prominent in official life make addresses. The wave lengths of the British stations vary from London 21.0, at 363 meters, to Aberdeen 2BD at 495 meters. The English stations will use a power of one kilowatt, which is equivalent to the most powerful broadcasting stations in this country.

It is planned to have a general silencing of all United States broadcasting stations while the English are sending their test programs.

ONLY GERMAN SPY IS ORDERED RELEASED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Orders for the release of Lothar Witzke, the only German spy convicted in the United States during the world war, caused considerable official commotion today in Washington but the orders will stand as issued two weeks ago by Secretary Weeks and Witzke will be liberated tomorrow from Leavenworth prison.

The former spy, however, will leave the country immediately. The commotion grew out of a seeming conflict of jurisdiction and brought about telephone calls from the white house to two government departments and a hurried conference between President Coolidge and Secretary Weeks.

Explanations were made and finally all was straightened out.

DR. ZEIGNER DENIES CHARGES OF BRIBERY
Dresden, Saxony, Nov. 20.—Dr. Zeigner, the former premier of Saxony, in a letter to the Volks-Zeitung denies the accusations made against him if bribery as malicious misrepresentations. He says he will answer all charges in court.

It is announced that Dr. Zeigner's arrest has been postponed for the time being.

PUBLIC HEARING IN VET BUREAU CASE IS CLOSED

More Evidence will be Presented at Business Session

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Matters presented in the public hearings before the senate veterans' committee constitute but a "fragment" of what has been developed both in relation to the neglect of the disabled and to corruption and waste in the veterans' bureau, John F. O'Ryan, general counsel declared tonight at the close of the public phase of the committee's investigation.

General O'Ryan listed scores of reports of special inquiries which have been made in all sections of the country and which embrace local bureau offices, hospitals, government vocational schools and the work in universities and colleges where former service men are training. He announced these will be presented to the committee at the coming business sessions at which all of the matters under investigation will be reviewed and a report to the senate formulated.

A somewhat dramatic incident occurred at the final public sessions with the appearance of Mrs. Katherine Mortimer of Philadelphia, wife of Elias H. Mortimer, principal accuser of former Director Charles R. Forbes, in an unsuccessful effort to be heard in what her counsel said was a vindication of her character and good name.

Chairman Reed announced the committee will decide later whether she will be placed on the stand to answer such questions as her attorney, Daniel T. Wright, might prepare in writing and the committee might regard as revealing.

Recommendations for legislation from the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars were received during the day. Both organizations congratulated the committee in its work. John Thomas Taylor, general counsel of the American Legion declaring that the hearings have awakened the country to the seriousness of the situation not only as it affects the disabled men but also the government.

THREE ESCAPE DEATH AS CRIPPLED PLANE DESCENDS TO EARTH

Broken Guy Wire Causes Fall of Two Thousand Feet

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Two aviators and a woman passenger, one of them clinging to a disabled wing of an airplane, plunged 2,000 feet to earth near Zion, Ill., late today and escaped with their lives when the pilot turned the plane's nose upward as it landed. The airplane swerved from its descent, bounced along the ground and into a rocky field and brought up against a tree, one man still clinging to the wing.

R. G. Covert and N. Washburn, the aviators, were flying from Milwaukee to Chicago with a girl passenger when a wing was crippled by a broken guy wire. Washburn crawled onto the wing to repair the wire when the plane started its descent. The occupants were uninjured.

McCRAE LIABILITIES GROW STILL HEAVIER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 20.—Some notes pledged as collateral with the state board of agriculture for a loan of $155,000 by Governor Warren T. McCrae bore no value outside of his endorsement, the governor testified this afternoon at the hearing in the federal court before Harry C. Sheridan, master in chancery on the petition of three First National banks to have the governor adjudged a bankrupt. The statement was made in reply to questions propounded by H. L. Sammons, Kentland attorney, who conducted the examination for the petitioners.

Existence of debts in addition to those given in the revised list of liabilities which was submitted today with a total of $2,032,920.69 was discovered in questions by Sammons. These it was brought out, included a promissory note for $1,200 to Mary McDermott, a similar note of $1,000 to Charles Pruss and a note for $16,000 to Uriah Unger.

The three note holders are said to live in and around Kentland, the home of the governor.

WESTERN UNION MANAGER HELD FOR EMBEZZLEMENT
Urbana, Ill., Nov. 20.—William Markitz, who is alleged to have embezzled $1,500 from the Western Union Telegraph company while he was manager of the Chicago office, is held in the city jail because of his failure to supply the $3,000 bond in a preliminary hearing this morning.

Packing Firms Asked For Books Inspection

Information on the various plants, branches, agencies and offices and the character of the business carried on and to determine the accounting methods and practices by which the records are kept.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Secretary Wallace announced today that he had made a demand on Swift & Company, Chicago meat packers, last week to permit auditors of the packers and stock yards administration full access to the company's books, accounts, records and memoranda. A similar demand is being made on Wilson & Co., an Ohio Cudahy Packing company.

The packing companies are given until November 23 to decide whether they will grant the permission which is requested under the packers and stock yards act.

The companies for more than a year it is declared have been withholding permission for examination of their records.

Secretary Wallace, it is added, has been endeavoring to reach an amicable understanding with their officials but has been unable to do so.

The demand on the packers is for the purpose of determining the extent to which they are engaged in the buying of livestock in commerce, and in the manufacturing and preparing of meats or livestock products, including dairy products, poultry, poultry products and eggs; obtaining information concerning the ownership of the business; determining whether the records fully and correctly disclose all transactions involved, to examine and verify the information in the balance sheets, profit and loss statements, published from time to time; to determine the extent to which the business is interstate or intrastate or intermingled; to obtain

WITNESSES READY TO REPLY TO QUESTIONS AFTER COURT REBUKE

Are Charged by Judge with Convenient Forgetfulness

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Witnesses testifying today in the trial of 12 officials and other men indicted in connection with the dissolution of the Grommes & Ulrich Liquor company, displayed a greater readiness in answering questions regarding the stock sales just preceding the dissolution following warning by Federal Judge Evan A. Evans, presiding in Chicago, that witnesses with "convenient forgetfulness" might face perjury or contempt charges.

Charles W. Murphy, former owner of the Chicago National League baseball club was one of the witnesses today. He admitted purchasing two units of stock. Other witnesses had testified that the stock was sold in units of 18 shares, one case of liquor being given for each share of stock in the dissolution of the company.

Walter Greenbaum, Chicago banker testified that he purchased one unit of stock and split it with George Silver, former proprietor of the Friars Inn.

William W. Haerther, another witness testified that he was given a drink of the liquor as a sample while talking in the company warehouse with Tandy and Diehl, two officials who are defendants in the present trial, that Diehl poured the drink and that then he ordered one unit of stock with the understanding that he would get liquor instead of the stock.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY GOVERNOR SMALL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 20.—Edward H. Wright, colored attorney of Chicago today was named by Governor Len Small, as a member of the Illinois Commerce Commission. He will receive his commission tomorrow. Wright will succeed Alex J. Johnson, who has been named state insurance superintendent to succeed Thomas J. Houston of Chicago, resigned. Wright represented a Chicago district in the state legislature for several sessions.

Former Representative James M. Kettelman, Berwyn, was appointed by Governor Small to the position of superintendent of budget of the state department of finance. Kettelman, who will assume his duties tomorrow will succeed William H. McLain, Springfield, who resigned several months ago to take the place of the present appropriations clerk in the office of State Treasurer Oscar Nelson.

MANY KILLED IN SEPARATIST BATTLE

Duesseldorf, Nov. 20.—(A. P.)—The Separatists in their fight with the Loyalists near Bonn last Saturday lost 130 men killed and in addition were completely routed. The peasant Loyalists literally annihilated the band of separatists who invaded their territory in an attempt to detach it from the Reich and set up a Rhineland Republic, according to a despatch to the Duesseldorf Nachrichten.

It is asserted that the peasants infuriated over the attempt of the Separatists attacked them with axes, scythes and other farm implements.

RUM ROW READY FOR CHRISTMAS BUSINESS RUSH

Scarcity of Cutters Gives Smugglers Clear Field

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Nov. 20.—(A. P.)—Rum row today opened its pre-holiday sale. At sundown more than a dozen fishermen from points along the New Jersey and Long Island shores could be seen dashing toward the fleet of liquor carriers, now five strong and anchored about seven miles off the Ambrose channel lightship at the entrance to New York Harbor. Several shore craft had visited the fleet earlier in the day.

New York, Nov. 20.—Coast guard headquarters stated tonight that it was aware of the reported reasonable activity of rum runners off the Jersey coast but that no extra patrol craft were available here to combat the smuggling operations.

The Cutter Gresham however, left at dusk for rum row for its nightly tour of duty and two swift craft which have accounted for a dozen smugglers' speed boats in the last month hurried out to Ambrose channel to cut off the runners from Long Island havens. In addition New York police boats are under orders to keep a constant lookout for the latest fleet reported to have left the Bahamas.

Cases Visible
One of the rum fleet had a large number of cases visible. They were stacked on her deck, ready for prompt delivery to smaller craft.

A vessel, identified ashore as the dispatch boat of a New York rum syndicate lay alongside the largest steamer.

Ashore it was believed that no coast guard cutters were in the vicinity and that the smugglers would have a clear field.

It was rumored along the Jersey coast that a brisk business was expected tonight as unfavorable weather lately had been handicapping runners and bootleggers were reported to be pressed with demands for bottled "Thanksgiving and Christmas cheer."

Reports received about 10 days ago were to the effect that a heavy rum fleet was on its way from the Bahamas with a $500,000 cargo.

SESSION OF UNITED STATES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CONVENES

Annual Regional Conference Will Be Held in Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Transportation and immigration will be the principal subjects discussed at the first annual regional conference of the United States chamber of commerce to be held in Chicago next January 21 and 22, it was announced here today. Leading business men, manufacturers, shipping men, bankers and public utility officials of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska are expected to attend his conference. In addition four hundred chambers of commerce and these states will be asked to send their officers and boards of directors.

Thomas E. Wilson, president of Thomas E. Wilson & Co. of Chicago, who is vice-president of the National Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the advisory council of thirteen, has charge of the conference program which will bring to Chicago the leading transportation and immigration students of the country.

The prime object of the conference, Mr. Wilson said, is to give this section of the country the chance to express its viewpoint to the national chamber and assist in developing the program which the district believes the national chamber should follow.

GOVERNOR SMALL SPEAKS IN MASON CITY

Mason City, Ill., Nov. 20.—Pledging to build hard roads in the future even more economically than in the past, Governor Len Small spoke at a hard roads meeting here today. A procession of 100 automobiles met the governor at the Mason county line and escorted him to the city.

Most of the merchants of the city placed the governor's picture in the store windows and draped it with national colors. Business houses were closed during the program. The meeting was sponsored by the commercial association.

TO GIVE SOCIAL BUFFALO HEADQUARTERS TO BE IN DANVILLE

Danville, Ill., Nov. 20.—Danville has been designated as the location of the Buffalo Headquarters of the Buffalo Lodge, instead of Chicago, it was announced here tonight by officers of that lodge.

REICHSTAG STAGES BURLESQUE CLIMAX AT IMPORTANT TIME

Adjournment is Caused by Obstreperous Communist Deputy

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—(A. P.)—An obstreperous communist deputy, Herr Remmele, who refused to obey President Loebe's injunction, caused adjournment of the reichstag this afternoon, incidentally supplying a burlesque climax to a session which was to have an important bearing on Chancellor Stresemann's immediate political futures.

The incident occurred just as Dr. Stresemann was about to present the government's statement in the chamber and when the prospect of continuing in office at the head of a minority ministry. Deputy Remmele was called to order for a vicious interjection and then was instructed to leave the chamber, but flatly refused President Loebe's command whereupon the president announced a 15 minute recess.

Remmele who is one of the noisiest ultra-radicals remained in the chamber and when the session was resumed he again refused to leave, whereupon President Loebe announced a postponement until Thursday.

Stresemann Nervous.
Chancellor Stresemann, nervously fumbling the manuscript of his speech, appeared impatient over President Loebe's decision while a majority of the bourgeois parties were inclined to favor the forcible ejection of Remmele.

This the president declined to countenance apparently because such a procedure would have been viewed as a concession to the reactionary elements.

Remmele's offense consisted in accusing the president of the reichstag with having the building picketed with plain-clothesmen which prompted him to interrupt the debate with the shout: "Are we in a regularly constituted parliament or in a prison?"

The fate of the Stresemann government is still hanging in the balance, altho the prediction that it will be forced to retire is viewed as wholly premature in parliamentary circles, where the opinion prevails that the opposition forces will permit Stresemann to escape inasmuch as neither the nationalists nor the Socialists will vote jointly on a confidence issue.

SOUTH DAKOTA SHOWS McADOO LEADER IN CONVENTION RETURNS

Republican Delegates to State Meeting Unimpaired

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 20.—(A. P.)—A sweeping victory for the supporters of William G. McAdoo was claimed tonight by Democratic State Chairman W. W. Howes on the basis of returns from the county proposal conventions held thruout the state today.

"Returns from 19 counties, representing 23,825 votes out of a total of 50,409 in the state convention make the McAdoo victory a certainty but better than that," Howes said in claiming the state proposal convention majority.

At the same hour F. H. Hildebrandt of Sioux Falls, leaders in the fight to pledge delegates to the state convention for Henry Ford issued a statement claiming four full counties and scattered individual delegates wielding a total convention vote of approximately 8,000.

The Democratic Meetings generally named uninstructed delegates, the several counties went on record with specific orders to their representatives.

Scattered returns from the Republican county meetings indicated that the majority of the conventions in all of which the contest for delegates was between supporters of President Coolidge and Senator Hiram Johnson of California, sent uninstructed delegates to the state meeting.

In the Farmer-Labor conventions the Ford candidacy was endorsed in two counties, the remainder reporting up to midnight naming uninstructed delegates.

CRAP SHOOTER SHOTS IN DIFFERENT WAY

Clinton, Ill., Nov. 20.—One negro is dead, a second is painfully wounded, and a third is being sought by officers as the result of a shooting affray that climaxed a crap game here tonight.

Albert Mayes, an employee of the Illinois Central railroad, opened fire on Sam Owens, who died instantly and wounded George Develin. He jumped thru a window and made his escape.

THRESHING STILL GOES ON IN ILLINOIS

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 20.—The thrashing season in Central Illinois is often ended in August, farmers south of Elkhart, southwest of here are still threshing wheat and have several more days work to finish. The wet season has been the cause of delay.

ENTENTE FUTURE SEEMS ASSURED BY ALL REPORTS

No Enthusiasm for Compromise Which Averted Crisis

PARIS, Nov. 20.—(A. P.)—It was accepted as certain in Paris tonight that the entente will survive the present crisis, but there is very little enthusiasm for the compromise thru which the break was averted.

The provisional character of the accord, so far as the details of this have transpired, is one of the reasons for the coolness toward it. The fact that the British government was not ready to signify its acceptance after consideration of more than 24 hours, necessitating the postponement of final action by the allied council of ambassadors is interpreted as evidence that the accord is only moderately pleasing to London.

The conclusion is that both sides are only particularly persuaded and neither converted and that the conflict is sure to break out again when electioneering considerations have been eliminated from the situation. The only definite result that appears clearly from the negotiations is that former Crown Prince Frederick William's return to Germany will be allowed to drop out of the discussion.

French Keep Secret

The French government is said to have been trying for several days to keep secret the fact that when the German Charge d'Affaires called on Count Peretti, the French director of political affairs the other day, he brought re-affirmation of the crown prince's renunciation of the throne of Prussia in 1918. He also gave assurance that the German government would under no circumstances tolerate the return of former Emperor William to Germany. These assurances were considered as practically disposing of the Hohenzollern question and it was the general opinion that there was nothing more to be done in the matter than to ask the Berlin government to confirm the assurances formally.

It was the willingness of the French to separate the question of penalties from the summons upon Germany to facilitate the work of the inter-allied military control mission that made an agreement possible on that question but it is remarked that there is nothing final in the accord, since France reserves the right to take action in case the German government fails to afford the requisite security to the military mission.

Elections Near.
It is pointed out in political circles that if there is an advantage to the British government in preventing a break in view of the forthcoming elections in England, the French elections are only five or six months off and the French campaign must also be taken into account.

The impression in parliamentary circles is quite unfavorable. Deputies discussing the supposed substance of the accord in the lobbies today remarked that Premier Poincare while very categorical and uncompromising in dealing with the chamber, showed unsuspected elasticity and accommodation when faced with the eventuality of a break with Great Britain.

"Briand fell from power for making no less significant concessions to Lloyd George," one deputy remarked. It was not worth while to depose him if his successor finds it necessary to follow the same policy."

FRENCH AND ENGLISH KINGS RENEW FIGHT

CALAIS, France, Nov. 20.—(A. P.)—The King of England and the King of France are fighting again. They are figures in the ancient clock tower so arranged as to joust with lances in fierce combat when the clock strikes noon each day.

This mechanism was damaged early in the war by a German shell, whereat the population of Calais exclaimed: "Miracle!"

Now a clock maker has repaired the machinery so the daily assault takes place between allies just at a time when the reparation controversy is at its bitterest.

Cynically, the people of Calais shrug their shoulders and say: "That's the end of the alliance!"

RUM RUNNER KILLED WHEN OFFICERS FIRE

Spokane, Wn., Nov. 20.—One man believed to be named "Sterling" was killed, others were reported to have been wounded and four automobiles loaded with liquor were captured at Condon's Ferry on the Columbia River in Okanogan county today when county and federal officers opened fire on a party of seven automobiles. Others of the supposed rum runners escaped in the other three cars.

A THOUGHT

See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.
—1 Thess. 5:15.

Never let a man imagine that he can pursue a good end by evil means, without sinning against his own soul. The evil effect on himself is certain.—Southey.

The slash in federal taxes suggested by Secretary Mellon and approved by President Coolidge is now the principal national theme for discussion. It is safe to say that every man and woman who will be directly affected by the proposed reductions is very much in favor of the m. It's human nature for a tax payer to look with approval upon any change that he sees is directly helpful.

Ex-Governor Walton's meteoric and spectacular political career has ended. If he had been deposed as governor by a close vote it wouldn't be wise to say that his public career is over, but with an unanimous finding against the former executive it means the end.
Turning back the pages of Oklahoma history for the past year shows the former governor as impetuous and ill advised. He wasn't a big enough man for the job.

Wabash railroad officials who visited Jacksonville yesterday were accorded every courtesy at the command of the city and expressed their appreciation. To have railroad officials meet with residents of the cities their railroad serves is a fortunate thing for such contact is almost certain to result in a better understanding of matters that are of mutual interests. The railroads in quite a definite way reflect the business conditions of the country. If the railroads prosper and are not continually disturbed by politicians or muck-rackers it is to the advantage of the public.

President Taussig made a significant statement yesterday when he said that more than 10,000 people now own stock of the Wabash and that no stockholder is the owner of more than $40,000 worth of this stock. Certainly the people own the Wabash and anything which is done to embarrass that road to lessen its efficiency or earning power is not in the interest of the public.

The United States Weather Bureau does not profess to know all about the weather, but its operations, day in and day out, show that it knows a good deal more about that subject than any of the amateurs who are accustomed to scoffing at it. The weather bureau deserves a respectful hearing, therefore, when it urges the public to pay no attention to the predictions of weather for next winter or for any period or date far in the future.

There may be methods of foretelling a "hard winter" from goosebones, squirrels' fur, trees'
bark and various other tokens relied on by amateur prophets. The government meteorologists simply say that, as scientists, they have no knowledge of any means of telling what the weather is going to be more than a few days ahead. Such means may be discovered in the future, but so far they have eluded the men who have devoted the most thought and to best equipment to such problems.

THE PEACE CONTEST

When Edward Bok's peace plan contest was announced a few months ago, many persons took the matter as a joke. It turns out to be far from a joke. More than 245,000 Americans have gone to the trouble to formulate and submit what they consider practicable plans for promoting world peace.

The prize money alone, tempting as it is, would not explain all this activity. Thousands of the men and women competing do not need the money and would never have entered the contest for that alone. Thousands of others would have chosen a more assured method of earning money if they had not been keenly interested in the subject itself.

The inference is plain that the American people are tremendously in earnest about restoring peace to the world and are eager to back their idealism with practical efforts. Whether or not the plan winning the big award shall prove to be typically American, there can be no question that this huge mass of manuscript and thought contributed by 245,000 citizens represents America, striving for the realization of an ideal.

TAX SPENDERS
NEA

How much of your hard-earned money is being spent for government? The tax question is coming to the front again, so here's a summary of the tax spenders supported by the taxpayers.

There are 2,700,000 public servants on the payroll of the national, state and municipal governments in America, and their pay 3,500 million dollars a year, according to a check-up by the National Industrial Conference Board.

This huge figure doesn't include the 670,000 pensioners and other inactive persons receiving support
—the whole collecting 320 million dollars a year.

So taxpayers are supporting 3-370,000 tax spenders—or, as a wag calls them 'tax eaters.' And the cost of the whole lot is not far from four billion dollars a year, for salaries alone.

The public payroll costs every man, woman and child in the country an average of $34 a year.
The cost is $91 a year for every American over 10 years of age.
Furthermore, one person out of every 12 over the age of 16
in America is a public employee.
In other words, every 11 taxpayers are supporting one tax spender.

The cost of state, county and municipal governments has increased tremendously since before the war. William P. Helms Jr., an able authority, estimates that state governments alone cost 1,443 million dollars in 1922.
This figure includes all items of expense—salaries, interest on debt, etc.

The really important question,
of course, is what taxpayers are getting for their money, rather than how many are getting it.

about 11 o'clock this morning.

J. L. Wills.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

BABY-TALK

BY BERTON BRALEY

THE language that a baby speaks,
Before it learns the words,
Is just as universal
As the chirping of the birds.
And be the baby yellow, black,
Or red or brown or white,
It speaks the seifsame language
Of each other tiny mite.

THE language that a baby speaks,
Is made of gurgles, coos,
And funny little bubbling sounds
That all the babies use;
And 'mid the Babel of the world
That funny baby tongue
Is music loveliest of all
That's ever played or sung.

THE language that a baby speaks,
When it is very small,
Is language no interpreter
Could ever get at all;
Yet 'round about the seven seas
And in a thousand lands,
The language that a baby speaks
Each mother understands!

A POSSIBLE NAMESAKE

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois Historical Society

The following letter and clipping will be of double interest, for the remembrance of Mr. Mcdonald, and as to Jacksonville, Texas:

Mr. Ensley Moore,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Mr. Moore:
As long as the Journal published a weekly edition, I used to enjoy reading your historical articles as they appeared in that paper, but since they do not publish a weekly I do not see it any more.

I am enclosing you a clipping from the magazine section of the Dallas News of September 23rd as to how Jacksonville, Texas, got its name, which I thought might be of some interest to you.

With kindest personal regards,
Your friend,

A. A. McDonald.

Jacksonville

Jacksonville, Cherokee county,
was named for Jackson Smith, early blacksmith here. Dr. Jacksonville, the first settler, or for Jacksonville, Ill., whence came Jacksonville, Smith. Opinions differ.

M. L. Earle, former mayor, says that Jackson Smith's dwelling and shop were located southwest of the tract that was afterward made the townsite. Immediately after Jackson Smith erected his dwelling and blacksmith shop he was appointed postmaster and the place designated as Gum Creek postoffice. Smith kept his postoffice in one corner of his blacksmith shop. He was often seen to lay down his hammer to deliver mail. The mail as frequently had black finger prints on it when received by the addressee. At the time there were no envelopes. The Postoffice Department is unable to say at what date the name was changed from Jacksonville. Smith was a toothless old man, clean shaven and always carried a pipe in his mouth. He had a wife and one son.

In August, 1872, a new town was stated on the International & Great Northern Railroad and all the business was moved from the old town to the new site and the old village ceased to exist.

DIRE POVERTY EXISTS IN MORGAN COUNTY HOME

A home in which the most abject poverty exists has recently been discovered by Social Service League workers several miles southwest of the city. The family consists of a blind woman seventy years of age, two other women and four children. The family is entirely without means except for the pension for the blind which the aged woman receives. She is the mother-in-law of one of the women and the other is her feeble-minded sister. The husband of one of the women is a patient at Jacksonville State hospital.

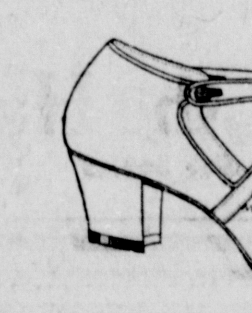

Miss Eva Veirs, superintendent of the S. S. L., and Mrs. Thomas Hopper her assistant recently made a visit to the home and were horrified at the conditions found there. The place is well nigh inaccessible and the case is one of the most pitiful which has come to notice in recent months.

J. O. Rolston and Floyd Miller made a business trip to the city from Franklin Tuesday.

FARMERS ILLS NOT DUE TO INEFFICIENCY

Professor of Farm Mechanics Gives Explanation and Advances Plans He Believes Will Help.

Chicago. (A. P.)—Declaring that the farmer's plight is the result of economic conditions, E. W. Lohmann, Professor of Farm Mechanics at the University of Illinois and President of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, urged members of the society to turn their efforts towards methods of processing and manufacturing which will enable the farmer to store his farm products and put them on the market in an orderly manner, in an address to the society here.

He also urged that the problem of soil erosion be given careful scrutiny; that the work of farm power analysis be pushed and that more attention be given to the structure and convenience of the farm home. Professor Lohmann told the society the efforts of the organization could be concentrated to good advantage and stressed the importance of drawing teachers or vocational agriculturists into the membership of the society. He told the society that there was great need for a handbook of agricultural engineering and urged that all material now extant on the subject be collected into such a book.

In regard to the efficiency of the farmer, he said: "The farmer, when compared with the industrial worker, may not be rated very high in efficiency, but when compared with the farmers of other countries he is the most efficient farmer in the world.

We would like to praise our engineers and manufacturers for the good work they have done, but we can find folks with good arguments who would condemn them for making the farmer too efficient as a producer. "It is my belief that the work of the engineer will be a big factor in helping the farmer out of his present difficulties. I had the privilege of attending a farm marketing conference recently. An important fact that was emphasized was the fact the farmer must take care of his own surplus. To do this it is necessary that the products be either stored or made non-perishable by some manufacturing process so that they can be put on the market in an orderly fashion. There is no question in my mind, but that the stability of the dairy business as compared with other foreign enterprises is due in a large measure to the modern methods of handling all surplus milk."

Mrs. Garland Broggs was a Tuesday visitor in Jacksonville from Joy Prairie.

MILKING GOOD COWS MEANS MORE MONEY

Record of Farmer Who Got More Milk From Seven Good Cows Than From Twelve Ordinary.

URBANA, Ill.—(A. P.)—Several hundred dollars a year is added to the income of many Illinois farmers who milk none but good cows, according to C. S. Rhode of the University of Illinois. Mr. Rhode tells how one Illinois farmer sold his five poorest cows and got almost as much milk from seven cows as he had been getting from 12. This reduced his feed cost more than $250 a day, a saving of approximately $900 a year.

One McLean county farmer got more milk from his herd of eight cows than his neighbors did from eighteen. He saved the wages of a hired man and also made a big saving on his feed bill.

Such instances as these, Mr. Rhode says, are brought to light every day by Cow Testing Association records. They point out the difference between the average cow which produces only about enough milk in a year to pay for her feed and the profitable cow that makes farming worth while.

An association of this kind is composed of a group of about 26 farmers who hire a competent man to visit each heard once a month. On this visit he weighs the day's feed of each cow, weighs and takes a sample of each cow's milk and tests it with the Babcock test. He then figures the value of the milk, cost of feed, and the profit or loss of each cow for that month and finally for the year.

"Many farmers have increased the average production of a herd of ten cows to the value of $300 or more which makes the small cost of the work insignificant. This was accomplished by eliminating the poor cows and better feeding of their good ones." Farmers Are Invited. Invitation to attend the "Little International" to be held at the University of Illinois college of Agriculture, November 24, has been extended to all farmers in Illinois by the Hoof and Horn club of the University. It will be held in connection with the annual agricultural open house of the Agricultural Club. Representative animals from various university herds, which are being fitted for the International Live Stock Show in Chicago will be shown.

BRIEFS

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 20.—President Coolidge is waiting to see the reaction to the treasury tax reduction program from the farm and small town newspapers. He has been impressed by the unanimity of endorsement given the Mellon plan by the larger city newspapers but believes it would be well to await receipts of editorial comment from the more rural districts.

Los Angeles, Nov. 20.—Alan Holubar, prominent motion picture producer and actor and husband of Dorothy Phillips, film star, died suddenly here today of pneumonia.

Washington, Nov. 20.—There are no proposals pending before the American government, Secretary Hughes said today for either loans or relief work in Germany.

Conway, Ark., Nov. 20.—Simplification of government with a view to efficiency and economy in operation was urged by Frank O. Lowden, in an address yesterday at the "home-coming" exercises at Hendrix college. He deplored the increase in the number of governmental boards, bureaus and departments, declaring there were frequent conflicts in administration.

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 20.—A masked bandit who held up William Vooten, night telegraph operator at the Canton Burlington depot last night for the third time in two months, left a note saying that if the Burlington agents thought Vooten was taking the money himself, "the company had a punk bunch of dicks."

Woolen is being questioned with regard to the hold up.

Minneapolis, Nov. 20.—When a man breaks an arm in enthusiasm over a touchdown, he belongs in football's hall of fame.

Joseph McKenzies witnessed the football game Saturday between Minnesota and Iowa and when Ekhard of the Gophers made the opening touchdown McKenzie snatched off his hat and waved it. He waved so hard he broke his arm.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Katherine Mortimer of Philadelphia, wife of E. H. Mortimer, star witness against former Director Charles R. Forbes, tried unsuccessfully to testify today before the senate veterans' committee in an effort, she said, to vindicate publicly, "her character and good name."

New York, Nov. 20.—The body of Irving Pickelny, four and a half years old, kidnapped from in front of his Grand street home, October 26, today was found slashed with a knife in the cellar of a tenement house.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 20.—Mrs. Tillman Swisher of Danville, who suffered a fractured skull Monday afternoon when a fire truck crashed into her automobile died at 9 o'clock this morning at a local hospital. Mrs. Lola Blue, daughter of Mrs. Swisher, suffered a broken back and Miss Nelle Gates of Chicago, sustained internal injuries. Both are in a serious condition. Three firemen were slightly injured.

Moline, Ill., Nov. 20.—John Sundine, aged 45, widely known newspaper publisher and half-owner of the Moline Dispatch, took his life at 7:15 this morning in the home of State Senator M. R. Carlson. He had been despondent for some weeks because of failing health. For three successive terms he had been president of the Inland Press association, having retired from the office only within the last year.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—The Pullman car shops are not building a private car for Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, and have no order from Mr. Ford for a car, according to a statement issued by Pullman company.

ARTICLE GIVES FACTS ABOUT SADDLE HORSES

Points to be Considered in Judging of Saddle Horses are Given in Article in Breeders Gazette Several Years Ago.

Bert Way of Concord has left at the Journal office an article with reference to saddle horses which appeared in the Breeders Gazette a number of years ago. The article is by Charles Bailey of Kentucky, well known to horsemen. The horse shows which have been held in connection with the Morgan county fair in the past several years have served to increase interest in the different classes of horses, and the following paragraphs from the article referred to will probably be read with interest by many.

The horse that does not sink his own will into that of his rider lacks the essential element of a satisfactory mount. The saddle horse should have no will other than that of his rider, conveyed to him thru delicate but unmistakable signals. The self-willed saddle horse is dangerous, aggravating, a disturber of nerves and a procurer of profanity.

Unfortunately, disposition is not the subject of show yard rating. It may be considered and estimated in the purchase of a horse, but not even the judge who rides a horse in the arena can be always certain of the disposition.

Manners count high in a saddle horse. They are not altogether an index of disposition. Primarily they depend on mouth and disposition, but education makes mouth and modifies disposition to some extent. Manners are the outward manifestation of disposition as controlled by education and this control is largely obtained thru the mouth. It is sometimes said that breed "goes in at the mouth." This is not true, but it may be fairly said that manners in a saddle horse are brought out by the mouth.

By manners is meant a flexible and yet steady carriage of the head, a closed mouth, an erect ear, a quiet tail and an instant obedience to the indicated will of the rider. Bad manners are seen in the nose pointed in the air, the mouth agape and tongue lolling out, the ears batted back a constant switching of the air and audible or none the less patent protests against obeying the communicated will of the rider.

The gaits of a saddle horse constitute a large part of his value. All horses can trot and gallop, but the trot of a saddle horse differs materially from the trot of a harness horse. The fundamental gait in a saddle horse is a walk and given a correct, springy prompt walk and much else is possible. With a stumbling, interfering lumbering stiff-jointed cloddy walk, education for the saddle is wasted on a horse.

Next in importance is the trot. Men who teach horses to rack want them to trot first of all. They hate and despise a natural pacer, knowing that his rack, if made, will readily degenerate into a shambling rolling side-pace, and the horse becomes essentially foul in his gait.

The canter finishes the education of the gaited horse. There are all degrees of this, from the high and bounding sort to the lower shuffling threefooted kind that mixes in a little pace, a little trot, and a little rack along with the upbound forward. This is a most delightful gait when properly taught. The two extremes are a high hard bounding gallop and a low shuffling half-canter.

With the five-gaited saddle horses the rack is the spectacular gait and exhibitors understand that they can come nearer hoodwinking a judge with a flash rack than with any other gait or quality. The rack or single foot is a showy gait when correctly performed but very painful to the eye when it is foul. It is done on the curb and calls out all the dash and gameness in a horse.

To go in form is the highest standard of a saddle horse. To come in balance, to work within himself, to be perpetually poised so that he bears the rider comfortably and is able instantly to perform a command—that is the height of excellence in a saddle horse.

Fineness is an essential in a saddle horse of high degree. He must be well-bred and he must be bred in saddle blood if he is to attain the greatest perfection as a mount. He must have a long and well crested clean-throated neck, with a bony head free from coarseness; his neck must rise boldly from sloping shoulders—riding shoulders, the English call them. The back must be short and the coupling strong. The weight must be supported by the back and loins, and hips, leaving the shoulders free to play easily. The legs should be made of ivory and whiplike, not of lumber. It requires blood, not bulk to carry weight, and fluted legs are far superior to round and beefy bones of far greater measurement. The neck should be so set and so clean under the jaws that when the horse comes to hand—that is, gathers his legs under him, yields his mouth and stands poised to bound off in any indicated step—his head may be high carried with plenty of neck in front of the rider, but the face should be set almost perpendicular. The nose should not be poked out in the air nor should the chin caress the chest. The long straight neck of the hunter finds no place in the schools. The neck should rise in graceful curve, not so straight that the rider will be bumped in the face if he happens to take his horse back hard, but with the beautiful bow of the neck always in front of the rider's eyes.

The saddle horse is the hand-somest of equine types. There is breeding and refinement and quality, and a modeling to the form that delights the eye. The greater and beauty the more valuable the horse and the better equipped to win. Get beauty and finish in a saddle horse if possible, but in buying with all your getting, get disposition.

FILLING STATION IS BURGLARIZED

Thieves entered the filling station of Roy DeFries near the C. & A. Subway on East Morton avenue Monday night and stole a quantity of candy, cigarettes and some change. Entrance was made by breaking the door lock with an old pick and considerable damage was done to the building in breaking open the door. A window on the east side of the building was first broken open but for some reason entrance was not made thru this opening.

W. D. HATFIELD TAKES POST IN DECATUR

Former Jacksonville Young Man Will Operate Big Sewage Disposal Plant—Comes to Position From Highland Park, Michigan.

A number of Jacksonville people will be interested in knowing of the appointment of W. D. Hatfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hatfield of this city, to the important post of operating and chemical engineer for the new sewage disposal plant in Decatur.

Mr. Hatfield has for several years past been superintendent of water works at Highland Park, Mich., and is thoroughly qualified by both training and experience for the work he is to undertake in Decatur. The appointment was recently announced by W. C. Field, president of the Decatur sanitary district board, and Mr. Hatfield is to enter upon his duties Jan. 1.

It will be remembered locally that Mr. Hatfield after graduating from Illinois college took special work at the University of Illinois and he has been unusually successful in his chosen line of activity.

The Decatur Herald in making reference to Mr. Hatfield's appointment, had the following:

Mr. Hatfield came to Decatur Friday at the invitation of the trustees to meet them and S. A. Greeley and Hansen, to consider the appointment. Up to Friday all of the negotiations with him had been by correspondence and the trustees wanted to meet him with Mr. Greeley to go into the whole proposition. At the end of their conference, the board decided Mr. Hatfield was the man to operate the plant. He is an engineer and a chemist, and saves the employment of two expensive men, one for the operating end of the plant and the other for the chemical part of it. Mr. Hatfield is thoroughly acquainted with both and comes highly recommended. He has had practical experience in the operation of sewage disposal plants, and now is the superintendent of the waterworks at Highland Park, where the Ford Motor Car Co. has its main plant.

Mr. Hatfield is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Several years ago when Decatur was first studying the sewage problem, Mr. Hatfield was a student in the University of Illinois, and had occasion to come to Decatur and assist in making studies, that has given him an idea of the Decatur problem and his interest in this line of work makes the trustees feel that he will successfully operate the new plant, pronounced by engineers as a model for the disposal of sewage. Mr. Hatfield's home is in Jacksonville.

The trustees will provide complete laboratory equipment for Mr. Hatfield at the sewage disposal plant in the building already erected. Studies will be made constantly in order to operate the plant at its minimum efficiency.

GEORGE VAN GUNDY STILL IMPROVING

George VanGundy the wealthy farmer residing between Bluffs and Chapin who was a short time ago mysteriously shot while listening to his radio at his home, is reported to be improving in a very gratifying manner. He is at the present time at patient at Passavant hospital where he was brought the morning following the shooting. The seriousness of the wound and Mr. VanGundy's advanced age made recovery look doubtful in the early days of the case. The mystery surrounding the shooting still remains unsolved.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS GUESTS OF CITY

Arrived Early Tuesday Afternoon For Two Hour Visit—President Taussig in Luncheon Address Gave Facts to Show Railroad Difficulties—Wabash Owned by Ten Thousand Stockholders

Jacksonville was honored yesterday by the presence of a large group of Wabash railway officials. The visitors came to the city in a special train from the west at 1 o'clock, were guests of the chamber of commerce at luncheon held at the Pacific Hotel, and where President J. E. Taussig made an address. Afterward the visitors were taken in cars for a brief trip about Jacksonville and left at 3 o'clock in their special train for Decatur.

The visiting railroad men were met at the train by Chamber of Commerce members with cars and went at once taken to the hotel. The Elite Six furnished a musical program while the company of nearly 150 were served luncheon and then R. Y. Rowe, president of the chamber of commerce, briefly expressed the pleasure Jacksonville felt in having the railroad officials as guests and introduced Mayor E. E. Crabtree to preside.

Mayor Crabtree said it was a great pleasure for the people of the city to entertain the Wabash men, for such gatherings, he said, resulted in a better understanding of the problems of both railroads and municipalities, and tended toward a more cordial relationship.

The mayor then introduced Mr. Taussig, who in turn presented the members of the party, each of whom in a sentence voiced the pleasure of the Jacksonville visit.

Railroads Doing Better.
Mr. Taussig declared that the railroads today are operating more efficiently than ever before. He gave figures to show that the earnings of the railroads for the first nine months of this year averaged 5.4 per cent by comparison with 4.64 per cent in 1922 and 3.23 per cent in 1921.

The speaker said that there is a tendency in some quarters to "go after" the railroads again because they are seemingly making money. He said that while the railroads are showing constant improvement, that certainly the proper course with reference to them is to let the transportation act alone and give the railroads a chance to further rehabilitate the properties and to increase in efficiency.

To indicate some of the changes in the railroad problem, President Taussig said that maintenance costs of the Wabash system in 1889 were $2,000,000 and the 1923 costs $9,000,000. The equipment cost in 1889 was three and a half million and in 1923 the expenditures were over fourteen million. The salaries of executive officers during that same period increased but from $500,000 to $1,500,000.

Speaking further of the Wabash, President Taussig said that since 1915 that $32,851,000 had been put into the road and that by the close of the year $5,000,000 more will have been expended for the cars that have already been ordered.

Public Owns Wabash.
To show that the Wabash really belongs to the people, the speaker said that in a few years time the number of stockholders has increased from 1900 to more than 10,000, and no stockholder owns more than $40,000 worth of stock.

The tremendous increase in tax expenses was cited as one of the railroad difficulties and President Taussig said that the railroads were called upon to pay heavy taxes for the maintenance of hard roads and that the effect of the roads so far as the railroad is concerned is to reduce passenger business because of automobile travel and freight business because of trucks.

Other facts pertaining to the problems of the railroads were presented in an interesting way.

Another large audience was present at Central Christian church last night and heard Dr. H. H. Peters, the evangelist, preach a strong sermon on the general theme, "What Must I Do to be Lost?" "It is not difficult to answer the question on the negative side. The truth is that one does not have to do, very much to be lost. An important question in the

AUTOISTS DAMAGE NEW LAID PAVING

Three autos made strenuous efforts to travel early last night along the newly laid concrete on West State street. One car came west from the square, speeding thru the soft concrete on the north side of the street. When the driver found that he could not turn when he reached West street, he put on the gas and sped down the unpaved portion of State street to the west.

Another auto came along a little later and tried to travel on the bare ties of the street car track. Still a third car was seen to tackle the new concrete before the evening was over.

TINY COOKIES

There are times when nearly every woman wants "just something" to serve to a large group of women in the afternoon. The hostess without a maid may find even a cup of tea too much of an undertaking for a large number of guests and will prefer something that can be prepared and placed on the plates ready to serve before the meeting begins.

Home-made candy is always appreciated but this involves hours of tedious as well as hard work, so why not serve one of the following delectable sweetmeats? These are about two bites more than candy but are quite rich and sweet enough to serve as a confection without tea.

This rule for "Hard Tack" will serve about thirty persons.

Hard Tack

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 cup dates, 1 cup walnut meats, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1-8 teaspoon salt.

Beat eggs until light with a Dover beater. Beat in sugar. Sift soda with flour and salt. Beat into first mixture. Add dates stoned and cut in small pieces, and nuts chopped or cut in small pieces. Mix well and spread very thinly on the bottom of a well oiled and floured dripping pan or cookie sheet. Bake twelve minutes in a hot oven. Remove from oven, cut in long narrow bars and let cool on the molding board.

A plate of hard tack and coconut macaroons makes an attractive combination.

Coconut Macaroons

Two eggs (whites), 3-4 cup shredded coconut, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry. Beat in sugar. Put in top of double boiler over hot water. When lukewarm add coconut, cornstarch and vanilla. Mix well and drop from a small spoon onto sheets of oiled paper. Bake in a slow oven until tops are lightly browned.

Hickaroons

One cup hickory nut meats, 1 cup light brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

Pecans or English walnuts can be used instead of hickory nuts. Chop nuts. Beat egg until very light with sugar. Add flour, salt, nuts and vanilla. Mix well. Roll and cut with a tiny cutter or form into small balls and flatten with the fingers. Bake in a slow oven.

These confections have crackers for foundation. They require even less work than the little nut affairs.

Fresh crisp oyster crackers are split in halves and filled with jelly, candied fruit, a plump stoned raisin or half a teaspoonful of rich vanilla butter cream. Put halves together and dip in melted confectioner's chocolate. The small sized oyster crackers make the daintiest affairs. Perfectly fresh marshmallows can be cut in quarters and used for fillings.

Saratoga flakes are spread with an egg mixture and browned in the oven to make a "Marguerite."

Marguerites

One egg (white), 3 tablespoons sugar, 1-2 cup chopped nut meats, 1-2 cup chopped and seeded raisins, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat white of egg until stiff and dry. Beat in sugar. Stir in nuts and raisins and spread on crackers. Bake in a hot oven until brown.

Another cracker goodie is made with marshmallows. Small square or round wafers are chosen for these. Cut marshmallows in halves. Put half a nut meat in the center of each wafer, cover with half a marshmallow and put in a hot oven or under the broiler to brown and puff the mallow. These are prepared, all but the browning, early in the day. (Copyright 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

MEREDOSIA WOMEN CLEAN CITY PARK

Women of M. E. Church Do Good Job Cleaning City Park and Thereby Earned Some Money for Their Treasury.

As the Meredosia city council had ordered that the city park there be cleaned up, and it seemed impossible to get men to do the work, Mayor L. F. Berger suggested to the presidents of the North and South Side Circles of the M. E. church that they take the job of cleaning the park.

Mrs. G. W. Butcher is president of the South Side Circle and Mrs. T. W. Burdick is president of the North Side Circle. Just two hours after Mr. Berger had made the proposition the presidents of the two circles sent word they would be on hand Tuesday morning, 18 strong, and they were there promptly at 9 o'clock. It took them about four and a half hours to do the work and it was a real job. Better than 18 men could have done or would have done in nine hours. Among them was Mrs. Belle Savage, a lady 80 years of age today. She said she would celebrate her ninetieth birthday cleaning the city park. She worked continuously with the other ladies, and was then invited to the mayor's home for a duck dinner, which she enjoyed very much.

The ladies each received 30 cents per hour for their work, which money goes to the treasurer of the North and South Side Circles of the M. E. church.

Mr. Berger was four times elected mayor by the women of the community, and no doubt felt under obligation to them and therefore offered them work when the opportunity offered itself. But it also appears that the men did not care to work in that community, or else they were all employed in other lines of work.

Just finest wheat

As you know, the old-time pancake is inclined to be heavy, indigestible. That's because it has rice, corn, or other "fillers."

Not this airy, dainty cake! It's just all-wheat—light as whipped cream—full flavored and savory. That's why it digests in half the time of an old-style pancake.

That's why it gives the 18 food elements that build strong bodies, and produce energy. For the ripe, golden Kansas wheat—of which it is made—is the world's choicest grain.

S. W. NICHOLS IS AGAIN IN TUCSON

Arrived in Arizona Last Friday Evening — Meets Various People Well Known Locally.

The following letter was written to the Journal by S. W. Nichols, who has recently gone to Tucson, Ariz., for a winter's sojourn. Mr. Nichols enjoyed his trip to the southwest and is anticipating a pleasant stay at the popular resort. The letter follows:

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 17, 23.
542 South Stone Ave.

Dear Journal:

My young friend, L. S. Brown, son of George Brown formerly of Concord, and myself arrived here last evening in good shape and I stood the trip perfectly. I feel myself very fortunate in having with me such a desirable companion as this young man as he is proving all right in all respects. Our journey was not hard though the scenery along the way is rather monotonous. The railroad service to this place is excellent. The Rock Island road runs through cars from Minneapolis and Chicago through this city to Los Angeles and San Francisco. The Rock Island line terminates at Tucumcari, a 12 hour run from El Paso. There the train is taken up by the El Paso and Southwestern road which runs from Tucumcari, through El Paso to this place. The Southern Pacific from New Orleans passes through El Paso and runs directly to Los Angeles and San Francisco. At El Paso the two roads are like the Chicago and Alton road which branches two ways at that point, meeting at Godfrey, Bloomington, from El Paso to this place but through different territory but I think the Southern Pacific controls both as tickets on either are good on both roads. We leave home at 10:45 A. M., and arrive in Kansas City at 9:15 P. M., and have an hour to wait and then take the through train for this place without a change of cars, arriving here at five P. M., the second day. The same train reaches Los Angeles at 7:30 A. M., next morning.

My good friend, J. W. Dodds, met us at the train and brought us to our boarding house which is very attractive. The location is on a street car line, the meals are excellent and conditions generally are satisfactory and we feel greatly favored.

Mr. Dodds is looking much improved, weighs more than ever weighed before and feels he is gaining in every way. I have met Earl Epler, who, with his wife and Mrs. Rexroat, are here for the winter. He was glad to see me and said he would come around and take us a ride in his car which I heartily approved.

Arizona has recently enjoyed an unusual amount of rain for this season of the year and they are feeling much elated over it as there is much cattle feeding in the state. I think I never saw western Kansas look quite as forbidding as it looked this trip. Vast treeless stretches as far as the eye could reach and few houses while the surface of the land was brown and bare. Surely they must have faith and perseverance to stay there though the houses were widely scattered.

Musical circles in this city are all eagerly anticipating a rare event to take place here in a short time. The Sistine chapel choir from the Vatican at Rome, is touring this country and has designated this city as one of the places to be favored. It is composed of 55 singers ranging in ages from 19 to 70 and is under the direction of Monsignor Antonio Rella, a highly accomplished musician, who has had charge of the organization for years. He is a born leader and has a vast prestige.

These singers are the chief vocal attraction in the vatican and required a guarantee of $130,000 before they would consent to come to America. Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco is largely responsible for the visit of the famous organization to this country and raised ten thousand dollars guarantee in his own city. The cities favored by them will surely be fortunate.

The city has recently witnessed a Masonic event rarely enjoyed by any place. It was the laying of the corner stone of the magnificent new $750,000 high school building. The grand consistory of the state was in session here and participated while members of blue lodges from far and near lent their presence.

The consistory band in its gorgeous uniform led the parade and six hundred Masons of various degrees were in line. The Grand Master of the state presided and there was a fine time generally. Masonry is strong in this part of the state and in this city the Scottish Rite temple is a superb building. I have not seen Dick Pyatt, but hear he is improving.

S. W. Nichols.

RED CROSS CALL

Armentieres, Seicheprey, Cantigny, Chateau-Thierry, Bellau Wood, Vaux, Vezie, La Mort de l'Homme, Meuse-Argonne. These names sound strangely in American ears, and yet with many others equally strange they are indelibly stamped on the pages of our history and will grow with ever-increasing brightness forever. For upon these fields in a foreign land that American soldiers faced the vast artillery of the foe, and triumphed. But in the day of victory thousands were slain, ten of thousands were shell-shocked, gassed, poisoned, crippled in body or shattered in mind. The people of the United States mindful of the traditions and spirit of the nation have brought back the ashes of thousands of the fallen to rest in our soil. The ten of thousands, crippled in body and disturbed in mind are also with us, and they cause a most solemn obligation to rest upon us. One hundred of these men are in this city today in one of the hospitals and they will remain there or in some similar institution until God in His wisdom sees fit to grant them eternal rest. They are given splendid care but there is a limit fixed by law beyond which that care may not extend.

For the purpose of supplementing the efforts of the State the Red Cross acting as the agency of all of us has undertaken to supply the personal touch which humanity dictates should be given in these cases.

To the extent that we sustain the efforts of this our agency, we may rest assured that care will be given in our name and in our behalf. It is impossible to magnify the splendor of the achievements of these men. General Pershing himself who commanded them in France admits that he is inadequate to the task when he says, "I pay the supreme tribute to our officers and men of the line. When I think of their heroism, their patience under hardships, their unflinching spirit of offensive action, I am filled with emotion which I am unable to express. Their deeds are immortal and they have earned the eternal gratitude of our country." Join the Red Cross, thus signifying your tribute, and expressing your eternal gratitude to those who took our burdens upon themselves.

Roll Call Director,
Morgan County Chapter,

needle variety, and are suited to the initial work in overall manufacture, the finishing being done at the White Hall factory. This arrangement is more convenient to help that has been coming here from Roodhouse, and will result in an added enrollment of helpers. Miss Irene John, bookkeeper at the knitting mills, has resigned to return to her home at Collinsville, and is succeeded by Mrs. Roy Dickerson. Miss John became quite a favorite during her stay in White Hall and her friends and fellow employees regret her departure.

A Thanksgiving social will be held at the high street school house, five miles southwest of White Hall next Friday evening.

and the teacher, Miss Mildred Wehls, asks that general notice be given of this benefit affair in order that there may be a large attendance.

Mrs. William F. Short went over to Greenfield today to call on her father, Thomas Vandaveor, who celebrated his 93rd birthday anniversary last week. He retains very good health.

Revival to Begin
Revival meetings will begin in the Christian church Wednesday night by Rev. M. P. Pierson, who has been called from the evangelistic field to the pastorate of this church, and this will mark his initial services. Rev. Pierson comes from Sadleville, Ky., arriving today with his wife and two children. He has been in the evangelistic field as a singer and speaker for the past 12 years, which is indicative of his wide experience and ability.

The First Baptist revival closed Sunday night with a record of 70 conversions, some of whom have already signified intention of uniting with this church. These meetings were in progress three weeks.

Dollar Day Draws Trade
White Hall's Dollar Day trade event was carried out today under the most favorable conditions as to weather and the offerings by the merchants. This event was engineered strictly on a circular basis, the advertising of the joint offerings being handled by bill distributors and thru the mail, and the results exceed expectations. The sale began at 8 a. m., all along the line, and this gave all an equal chance to start in on the day's bargains. Previously there was no restriction in this respect, and early buying cleaned up the best bargains before a great many people were up. This is the first trade event to be sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Under the arrangement it was 10 o'clock before trade became exceedingly brisk, and it continued on a brisk scale thru-out the day in a way that enabled it to be handled by the store forces in a most expeditious manner. The monetary calculations have not been made up for publication at this time.

This gathering has new significance to the farmers, and Mr. Phillips is endeavoring to make the best of this opportunity to give consideration to agriculture situation in Greene county.

OLD FURNITURE NOW MADE TO YOUR ORDER

Manufacturer's Prospectus Offers Line Especially for Antiquarians at Specified Prices—All Guaranteed

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Antiques particularly period furniture, have long been material for the J. G. Smiths and recently have figured in lawsuits and museum scandals, but those persons who have retained their faith in the genuineness of everything that has an ancient appearance received quite a shock the other day when it was discovered that "genuine old furniture" was being made on a wholesale scale and advertised in the trade journals.

The prospectus of one manufacturer offers a line of goods especially for antiquarians at specified prices, with five per cent extra when the articles are "painted in imitation old grey or ivory lacquer." A ten per cent increase is asked for "old lacquer."

These articles are guaranteed to be "of an antique type of construction, done in old wood, pegged or morticed" and fully equipped with "ancient incrustations" and signs of usage.

Chairs are offered at from eight to fifteen dollars, stools at $10 to $15, canapés at $14, while the dealer can buy a table long for $28 and a bed for $30. These are the wholesale prices; it is assumed the lover of real period furniture will have to pay a retail according to his or her apparent prosperity or bargaining ability.

Andre Tardieu, once French high commissioner to the United States, and now occasionally mentioned for the foreign ministries or even the premiership, is fitting himself physically for the strenuous career that may lie before him.

M. Tardieu has become a devotee of outdoor sports, but until recently a great deal of mystery surrounded his sporting activities. It has now become known that, braving the dangers the ancient and honorable game has held for the political fortunes of other public men of France, he has boldly taken up golf.

Some fun-makers recall that M. Tardieu severely jibed former Premier Briand for playing golf with Lloyd George at Cannes just before M. Briand's ministerial career was interrupted for the seventh time. M. Tardieu was not alone in chaffing the premier at that time, and that unfortunate round of the links was made to bear the onus of Briand's fall. Golf immediately became unpopular with aspirants for political honors.

M. Tardieu is now confronted with the problem not only of learning the game but of bringing it back into repute among statesmen. It is said that so far he has succeeded with the technical part of his job and that he is now willing to play before a gallery, taking a chance as to what effect his game may have on his political career.

The theaters in Paris are more prosperous than ever, and the "girl shows" are crowded every night, but the footlights are growing dimmer in the provinces. A stage census in the smaller towns and cities reveals that the well known stock companies of cherished memory are rapidly disappearing and that standard plays are hardly ever given. The musical shows and the movies are too popular.

Paris is blamed for this change, because the managers and authors of the Metropolitan productions see no financial attractions in showing outside the capital. Consequently they refuse to send on the road such old-time favorites as "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Agnès," "Dame aux Camélias," and "Alce Constantine."

One result of these changes was the withdrawal by the municipalities of financial support of the small theatres, and there now remain 6 companies of the 20 that once populated the provinces. What the country folk now get are the sex problem plays sent out sparingly by the Paris producers during an off-season. The theatrical managers outside the capital consequently have elaborated a plan, which they intend to present to parliament whereby government and municipal aid will be enlisted to preserve the drama "On the road."

HARRY FITCH INJURED
Harry A. Fitch, a former employee of the Courier, who is now city circulator for the Springfield Journal, was slightly injured Saturday evening when the car in which he was riding collided with a truck in the Springfield business district. The machine was turned over and skidded on its side for a considerable distance. When pulled from beneath his car, Mr. Fitch was found to have sustained a bad sprain in his shoulder and several minor cuts and bruises.

Miss Leta Griffin of Roodhouse had the misfortune to lose her diamond ring while visiting in the city at the home of Mrs. Lee Sullivan. The ring was found by Mrs. Ellen Wright.

For the past 25 years Mr. Ryan has been giving annual fur openings and sales in this city, and has sold many fine fur garments. Next Saturday he will have a complete assortment of Fur Coats, Capes, Chokers, from a leading manufacturer of Detroit on sale at FRANK BYRNS Hat Store.

THE REFEREE

By Albert Apple
Chimneys
He's found unconscious under his auto—John A. McKinley, New York building contractor. Overcome by the poisonous auto exhaust while repairing his car. This happens outdoors. Instead of in the garage with door closed, so he'll live.

With over 13 million autos in America generating this poison gas, protection is badly needed. Most sensible solution so far suggested is to run the exhaust pipes up above the autos, like chimneys, to eject the gas above the level of the air we breathe. Passing auto now ejects it near the pavement and it heads for the lungs.

Russia
Russian farmers are staging a gradual comeback. Acreage sown to crops this season is a fifth larger than a year ago, our Department of Agriculture learns. England has chartered a fleet of ships to bring out Russian grain. The soviet is exporting some to its neighbors, especially Germany.

For the present, American farmers apparently need not worry about Russia's gradual return to the world market, for her crop increase is mainly in rye. Her wheat yield is only a third as big as pre-war.

Cancer
Off and on for years, you've read a lot about experiments with the X-Ray against cancer. The results of all this experimenting are now summed up by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, which announces that X-ray treatment apparently does not kill cancer cells, but stimulates healthy cells to attack and destroy cancer cells.

Wild
More wild animals in this country than any of us imagine. About 441,000 head of deer make their homes in the national forests, also 40,500 elk. Antelope herds are gradually vanishing. Buffaloes, only 149.

If it hadn't been for government protection, all these would have been killed off long ago by hunters. Uncle Sam keeps them as pets, same as an individual keeps a dog.

Bunk
A prominent lawyer estimates that 200,000 pages of the reports and discussions of the courts will be added this year to the already tremendous mass of American legal "precedent." This undigested and indigestible mass of precedent, on which the law chiefly rests, is the main cause of legal delay and miscarriage of justice.

Same ethical lawyers are working for a restatement and clarification of the laws. More power to them. A housecleaning of the clutter and cobwebs is desperately needed.

Mrs. W. H. Fisher was in the city from Chapin on Tuesday.

COACH STAGG HAS TURNED OUT MANY WINNING TEAMS

Maroons Have Won 38
Games Out of 58 Starts
Since 1913

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(A.P.)—After thirty three years coaching football at one spot, the University of Chicago, Amos Alonzo Stagg, 62 years old and still fighting, stands out today in the opinion of his admirers, as the miracle man of the western conference in producing teams that lead the "big ten" with the highest average in the table of games won and lost since 1913.

Selection of 1913 as the year for compilation of the records was made Stagg's admirers said, to clear up a controversy raging over the performances of Jack Wilce, coach at Ohio State and Robert Zuppke, coach at the University of Illinois, whose admirers claim the highest honors for them.

Both Zuppke and Wilce came into the Western Conference as coaches that year.

Since 1913, the Maroon teams whipped together by Stagg have crashed thru opposing teams for 38 victories out of 58 starts—17 games were lost and 3 were tied—for a percentage of .691, compared with the records of teams developed by Wilce and Zuppke.

The Ohio eleven rank second to the Maroons, with Illinois third. The Buckeyes have won 27 games, lost 14 and were tied in one, while the Illini have won 32, lost 17 and were tied in 5.

To clarify reports published about Big Ten conference records since Coaches Zuppke and Wilce started their conference careers, the athletic department of the University of Chicago issued this statement:

"Whether the Maroons win or lose from Wisconsin this Saturday they will top the percentage column as the leading football team in the big ten conference since 1913, when Coach Zuppke started his career at Illinois and Coach Wilce his Ohio State. During the past 10 seasons excluding S. A. T. C. year when conference rules were suspended and several of the schools disrupted and members of the teams sent to training camps, Chicago has won 38 big ten football games and lost 17 and tied three and now leads the big ten football conference percentage column with .691.

"Ohio State with 659 is Chicago's closest rival while Illinois with 653 and Michigan with 600 are third and fourth.

"If Illinois wins from Ohio Saturday, Illinois will rank second to Chicago and Ohio will drop to third position.

"In the last three years the Maroons have lost to but two conference teams, Ohio State in 1921 and Illinois this year."

Including this year's games except those of November 24, the percentage standing follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied	Pct
Chicago	38	17	3	.691
Ohio State	27	14	1	.659
Illinois	32	17	5	.653
Iowa	12	8	1	.600
Michigan	22	16	0	.579
Minnesota	24	19	3	.558
Wisconsin	22	19	6	.537
Indiana	10	25	2	.286
Northwestern	13	41	1	.241
Purdue	9	32	4	.220

Both Zuppke and Wilce came into the Western Conference as coaches that year.

Since 1913, the Maroon teams whipped together by Stagg have crashed thru opposing teams for 38 victories out of 58 starts—17 games were lost and 3 were tied—for a percentage of .691, compared with the records of teams developed by Wilce and Zuppke.

MOTION PICTURES SHOW IN MEMORIAM AN APPARENT VICTOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(A.P.)—Slow motion pictures of the Zev in Memoriam match race Saturday at Churchill Downs, Louisville, exhibited today for the first time by the Pathe Company show in Memoriam an apparent victor by a half head altho part at least of this margin was due to the location of the camera, beyond the finish line. The judges declared Zev winner by a nose in one of the most thrilling thoroughbred races in history.

Calculation of the camera's location to the wire and distance from the horses at the finish gives in Memoriam an advantage of about four inches in the pictures, according to an explanation by Emmanuel Cohen Pathe editor to newspapermen who witnessed a special showing of the films. Discounting this, however, it was pointed out, in Memoriam apparently had a lead of approximately eight inches inasmuch as the margin actually apparent in the pictures is about 12 inches.

Mr. Cohen emphasized, however, that his explanation was purely from a technical viewpoint based upon the revelations of the "camera's eye." He refused to commit himself personally one way or the other regarding the outcome of the race.

ILLINI SUPPORTERS DO NOT AGREE WITH CHICAGO ADMIRERS

Claim Coach Zuppke Has Best Record in the Big Ten

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 20.—Illinois football supporters got a kick out of the claim advanced by admirers of Coach A. A. Stagg to the effect that the veteran Chicago coach is the "miracle man" of the Big Ten, the claim being based on "statistics" compiled by leaving out of the reckoning one year—that of 1918—during which Chicago lost every conference game played and Illinois came thru with a clean slate and the championship.

"Why bar the S. A. T. C. year?" is the query.

"Every big ten school except Indiana played a conference schedule that year. Football was carried on all over the country at the request of the war department and football records for that year are given the same consideration as those of any other."

"Coach Bob Zuppke was as hard up, or even worse off, in the matter of veteran players than any other Big Ten coach at the beginning of that year. He took a squad, only two members of which had ever played college football, and turned out an eleven which bowled over every collegiate eleven, losing only to the service teams from Great Lakes and the Municipal Pier."

"And what about this?" query the Illini fans.

"Coach Stagg himself, after Illinois had beaten Chicago 29 to 0, that year said that the Illinois team was a powerful as the famous Illini team of 1914 and that it could have beaten the Pier team, national champions, had it played them later in the season."

In support of their claim that Zuppke is not only a greater coach than Stagg, but the best one in the Big Ten, they cite these facts:

Illinois has won three championships and tied one since 1913, and is undefeated today this year, a better record than that of any other Big Ten school.

Chicago has not had a championship team since 1913.

Illinois has defeated Chicago six times since Zuppke came here in 1913, has lost four games and tied one.

And finally, the very statistics quoted by the Chicago partisans, when revised to include every year of football since 1913, place Illinois first and Chicago third.

Here they are:

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct
Illinois	36	17	5	.679
Ohio State	27	16	1	.628
Chicago	38	21	3	.571

TERRIBLE SWEDES TO COME NEXT SATURDAY

Believed That Blue and White
Will Be Fighting Mad By Saturday As Some of Them Are Beginning to Boil

The "terrible Swedes" from Augustana college will invade Illinois college campus next Saturday afternoon in the last game of the season for the Illinois college team.

Last fall when the Illinois boys went to Rock Island to meet Augustana the two colleges met for the first time in football. Teams representing the two colleges had met several times previous to that in basketball and track.

Last fall the Augustana team upset Illinois college in surprising fashion by the score of 7 to 6. Augustana had been trounced by Monmouth and Eureka, both of which had bowed to Illinois prowess. As a result the Illinois team was overconfident and did not play up to form with the result that the Swedes were returned the winners.

The Blue and White players are determined to get revenge this year. All of the players were out Monday afternoon, showing very little effect of the Wesleyan game. Beecher is nursing a sensitive floating rib caused by someone colliding with him amidstships. Rogers has a slightly stiff shoulder and Shafer a sore foot caused by someone falling on his heel while he was running and causing him to dig his toe too vigorously into the bosom of Mother Earth. Capt. Riess has been bothered most of the season by boils and was just congratulating himself that he had parted company permanently with the pests when another one appeared they stick closely and seem to multiply rapidly.

Bowman is also having a merry time with a flock of boils on his arm. The latest arrival is strategically placed so that when Bowman is tackled this boil near the elbow on the under side of his forearm gets the full benefit of the impact when an opponent by a hard tackle brings Bowman to earth.

It's all in a season, however, and the players recognize that fact. Boils will be forgotten along with other ailments when the Illinois players line up against the "terrible Swedes" on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Oyster supper and bazar, Thursday evening, Nov. 22, at Woodson Presbyterian church Manse. Serving begins at 5 o'clock.

Dixie Boy Is Yale Star

Richeson
Louisiana has contributed one of the brightest spots to the Yale football arrangement this year in the person of young Mr. Richeson, a quarterback of rare talent. Richeson is one of the finds of the year and has performed with marked skill whenever called upon by Coach Jones.

ZEV AND MY OWN RACE CALLED OFF

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 20.—None of a match race between Zev and My Own on this or any other track this year were blasted when My Own went down to defeat in the Prince George handicap here today. The Grayson colt, a top-heavy favorite finished sixth in a field of nine. He was never a serious contender and his owner said he would be withdrawn for the rest of the season. King Solomon's Seal won in a drive from Danman, with Flagstaff third, the time for the mile and one furlong being 1:56 1-5—one fifth of a second slower than the track record.

The winner was almost overlooked in the speculating, paying $2.60 for each $2 ticket.

It was plainly evident that My Own did not fancy the deep sandy going.

Earl Sande on the Grayson star finding himself outrun to the first turn was forced to take his mount under a choking pressure to prevent him running up on the heels of the leaders. He made the drive in the fifth position and for a time, when straightened out on the back stretch appeared to be gaining. When Sande called for an effort, however, My Own simply was not there.

Sande afterward said:

"The colt, beyond doubt, does not like the Bowie course. After I rounded the first bend and let out a rap he had utterly no speed despite the fact that he seemed to be trying his best."

Admiral Grayson said that flattering offers to race My Own would be refused.

"He has earned a winter's rest and will not be seen in action again until next spring at Pimlico," said the steed's owner.

The offer of the Bowie management for a special race still holds good for Zev and In Memoriam, but nothing has been heard yet from owner Widemann as to whether he will send In Memoriam to this track.

STARS OF TRACK AND FIELD SHINE OF THE GRIDIRON

Some of the football greats are doubling in brass this season.

Walter Koppisch, outstanding star of Uerrey Houghton's Columbia eleven, is one of the greatest quarter-milers that ever pulled on spiked shoes.

Syracuse has "Chet" Bowman, one of the fastest track men in the collegiate world, and easily the fastest backfield man in the football world.

Over at Princeton, Hills, the shot-putter, is proving his value as a linesman.

Notre Dame has Oberst in the line and Oberst can fling a javelin just about as far as you can see it.

HAGEN A SALESMAN?

Walter Hagen, noted professional golfer, may remain in the east this winter and give lessons indoors and act as a salesman of golf weapons at one of the big metropolitan stores. The plan is for Hagen to instruct a pupil and then equip him with clubs best fitted for the player's particular style.

RUTH ON SOUTHPAWS

Kid Norfolk Gets Decision Over Siki

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Kid Norfolk, Harlem negro, tonight received a judges' decision over Batting Siki, Senegalese conqueror of Georges Carpentier, in a slashing, spectacular 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Siki proved a wild, free-swinging batter, but he was badly punished by Norfolk's relentless attack.

Siki, wearing green tights, started the first round with a spectacular rush but his blows were wild while Norfolk landed several stiff jolts to the head and body. Siki drove Norfolk to the ropes in the second round with a savage attack that stirred the crowd to an uproar. Norfolk drew blood from the batter's nose but took a shower of rights and lefts to the head.

Siki set a fast pace in the third, locking Norfolk with two terrific swings to the jaw. Norfolk's jaws kept blood flowing from Siki's nose. Norfolk opened a cut over Siki's left eye in the fourth and battered the Senegalese about the head. Siki's face was a crimson smear as the bell rang.

Siki connected with two wild swings in the fifth that sent Norfolk staggering back but during most of the round the Kid beat a steady tattoo on his opponent's head. Norfolk sent Siki half way across the ring in the sixth but the batter came back and exchanged stiff jolts with the Kid as the round ended.

Siki withstood a battery of rights and lefts to the head in the seventh. He seemed to be weakening under the punishment but occasionally flashed a furious attack that slowed up Norfolk. Siki staggered Norfolk with two slashing lefts in the eighth, once driving the Kid to the ropes. They battled in rough and tumble fashion at close quarters.

Norfolk landed a terrific left at the start of the ninth and punished Siki with a left jab. Both slowed up their pace but the batter retained his smile as he went to his corner.

Siki was groggy under a battering attack to the head in the tenth, blood streaming from cuts on his eye, nose and lips. He made few returns to Norfolk's attack.

Norfolk had Siki in distress in the eleventh, lashing the batter with right and left hooks. Siki stood up gamely under the punishment and lunged wildly in return but his blows seldom found their mark. Twice Norfolk's blows seemed low and he was cautioned.

Siki was battered about the ring in the twelfth but managed to block some of the Kid's blows and hang on.

Siki staged a savage comeback for a few moments in the thirteenth until checked by a left to the jaw. Most of his punches, however, rattled harmlessly off Norfolk's rugged jaw. Siki landed two smashing lefts in the fourteenth but took a battery of rights and lefts in return.

Siki started a wild rush in the final round and rocked Norfolk with a succession of smashing lefts to the chin. Both missed wild blows and Norfolk rushed Siki to the ropes, battering him about the jaw. Siki tried hard to connect with a wild swing but the Kid ducked away, and came back with a smash to the head. Norfolk jolted Siki on the chin as the final bell sounded.

SCRATCH BUCKNELL

In all probability Bucknell will not be on the Yale football schedule next year. Although Yale defeated Bucknell, the Pennsylvania college team played such hard football that several Yale stars were badly injured. Yale didn't like it. A few years back Boston college trimmed Yale twice in succession in which rough football featured, resulting in Boston being scratched.

STRIBLING TO BOX

Because he is under age, Young Stribling, Macon, (Ga.) light heavyweight, will not be permitted to box in New York. Knowing this, Chicago promoters have made the school-boy batter a proposition and he will probably be seen in the Windy City district within the next few weeks.

HOCKEY SEASON OPENS

CONFERENCE TEAMS WILL PLAY FINAL GAMES SATURDAY

Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota Have the Most at Stake

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(A.P.)—All teams of the Big Ten were in the midst of their final week of training today, preparing for Saturday's conclusion.

Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota, all undefeated have the most at stake. Michigan and Minnesota will furnish the game whose outcome will be viewed with utmost interest. A win by Michigan would give the Wolverines a tie with Illinois for the championship, if Illinois does the expected and beats Ohio. A victory for Minnesota would leave the Gophers with a thousand percent record, but with a tie game against Wisconsin, Illinois defeated the Badgers.

In Saturday's contest, two green halfbacks, Kipke of Michigan and Martineau of Minnesota both considered for berths on mythical All-Western eleven, will match ability.

Coach Zuppke, after witnessing the Chicago-Ohio game broe a season's precedent by scrimmaging the Illini on the first training day of the week, in preparation for the Buckeyes. He indicated that he would stress defensive tactics against forward passing attacks, expecting that Coach Wilce will have a surprise in this department.

Wisconsin and Chicago meet at Stagg field, while Iowa is counted to win from Northwestern at Evanston. Purdue and Indiana with one win each will fight it out for a place among teams of lower standing.

MOLINE WILL NOT PLAY WESTVILLE

Moline, Nov. 20.—(A.P.)—Moline, one of the claimants of the high school football championship of Illinois will play Parker high school of Chicago on Saturday, and Rock Island on Thanksgiving Day.

Moline, according to Manager C. W. Holmgren, was not formally challenged by Westville. Sche duling of the Parker and Rock Island games and rules against post-season contests prevent a game with Westville this year, said Holmgren.

BELGIUM RATIFIES PROVISIONAL PACT

BRUSSELS, Nov. 19.—(A.P.)—After a meeting of the cabinet this afternoon a telephone message was sent to Baron D'Hes-troy the Belgian ambassador in Paris saying that the Belgian government ratified the provisional agreement drafted today by the ambassador's council.

The news from Paris that a rupture of the entente had been avoided brought expressions of the keenest satisfaction in official circles here.

These circles ascribed a great share of the credit for this result to the clarifying declaration from Washington recently regarding American opposition to the restoration of the Hohenzol-

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—Stock prices developed considerable irregularity in today's session after a strong opening. The undertone, however, was firm net gains again exceeding net losses at the close.

Further recovery of sterling exchange combined with overnight cable dispatches confirming reports that a break between Great Britain and France had been averted brought a fairly large volume of buying orders into the market at the opening.
Baldwin, opening a point higher at a new high level for the movement again led the advance, more than a score of stocks selling a point or more above yesterday's close within the first hour.

President Vanclain's emphatic denial of reports that Baldwin directors would authorize a special dividend distribution at Thursday's meeting, combined with rumors of heavy financing by some of the large oil companies resulted in a wave of profit-taking and short selling, which materially reduced or wiped out the early gains of some of the standard industrials. Baldwin touched 129 1/2, dropped 2 points and then rallied to 127 1/2 when it was off half on the day.

Sugars were heavily bought on optimistic forecasts of the trade outlook for 1924. American beet sugar was pushed up nearly six points to 40 and then slipped back to 33 1/2. American sugar refining and Cuba cane preferred, each closed more than a point higher and fractional improvement was registered by the other active issues.

Tobacco stocks developed marked strength towards the close. Rails were relatively heavy most of the day. The St. Paul issues particularly leading to selling pressure, but the list turned upward again just before the close in response to a heavy demand for Southern Railway, which closed 1 1/2 higher at 37 1/2.

The market for active United States government bonds was dull with price movements irregular and narrow.

Total sales par value $10,336,
000.

GOVERNMENTAL DENIAL CAUSES WHEAT DROP

wheat today at first showed an advance the market later sagged
as a result of selling which followed a denial that the United States government was contemplating relief work in Germany.
Closing quotations were easy to 1/2 net lower; December 1.02 1/2 to 1.02 1/2; and May 1.08. Corn finished 1/2 to 1/2 down; oats unchanged to 1/2 higher and provisions varying from 10c decline to 12c gain.

Unexpected strength of the Liverpool wheat market was largely responsible for an upturn in the opening prices here and for a slight further rise that ensued.
Reports that American, British and Dutch bankers are considering a loan to Germany may also have induced some buying here.
No mention of the United States government was made in this connection but bears were quick to emphasize a Washington dispatch quoting Secretary Hoover in denial of any government plan for German relief. Demand diminished during the remainder of the day and with many traders turning to the selling side the early gains were more than wiped out.

Deliveries which took place on November contracts here and some sales to go to store had a tendency to check any late rally in wheat values. There was talk
